

POLITICAL CONTROL OF CREDIT AIM OF NEW LAW

President of Illinois Bankers Assn. Talks of Pending Acts

Decatur, May 20.—(AP)—Declaring that the "spirit of the American banker has not penetrated into Washington," H. A. Brinkman of Chicago, president of the Illinois Bankers' Association, today told the annual meeting of the association that four factors have contributed to general reports that business is "hesitant, uncertain and unwilling to make commitments very far in advance."

"In order to find the cause of these affairs," Brinkman said, "it probably is not necessary to go further than to recall that there is still no definite assurance that the dollar will be stabilized at its present level, there is no well-defined movement for the stabilization of international exchange which would encourage foreign trade, the supreme court has shaken confidence in the inviolability of contract by holding that our government cannot be compelled to observe its own contract to pay its obligations in gold; and, above all, so many millions of our fellow citizens are being supported at the expense of a staggering budgetary deficit."

Bankers' Wares Unsought
Considerable business progress has been made in the last year, Brinkman said, pointing to higher prices for stocks, bonds and commodities and increased sales in automobile, household utility and farm implement lines, yet, despite this improvement, qualified business is not seeking the bankers' wares.

"The law of supply and demand is not operating as to bank loans," he explained. "Low interest rates are not attracting business."

Commenting on state and national banking legislation, Brinkman said "the theory in high places seems to be that only popularly elected or appointed officials are competent to direct the banking system. The untried theory is given the right of way. The average person legislator (and I do not blame him because he springs from the people) does not seem to be able to conceive of a banker who can and will make a decision uninfluenced by selfish motives."

Suggested Legislation
He urged the passage of legislation eliminating the double liability from ownership of state bank stock, since the great majority of deposits are fully insured and new capital must be attracted to state banks if the dual system (state and national) is to endure.

Regarding federal legislation, he said: "Thinking people see behind the desire to amend the federal reserve act, two primary motives:

"1. A desire for a centralized or socialized government, and therefore a political control of banking credit of the nation, with little or no recognition of state rights or the needs of particular sections of the country.

"2. A desire to have an assured outlet for government obligations issued to finance deficits with the accompanying power to inflate credit at will.

"Remove the fear of these great threats x x x and the bankers will be ready to cooperate in a sane, unprejudiced revision of the banking laws."

Walgreen's Niece to be Called at Hearing

Chicago, May 20.—(AP)—Lucile Norton, niece of Charles R. Walgreen, who made her withdrawal from the University of Chicago the occasion for charges of radical teaching against the school, will be called as a witness when the state senatorial committee investigating the charges meets again, Senator Richey V. Graham (D. Cicero), chairman announced.

Richey said that the committee would meet in Springfield tomorrow to plan its course and decide what other witnesses would be called. He said the second hearing probably would be held Friday.

One Veto Will Not Rid Roosevelt of Bonus Troubles, Leaders State

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
Washington, May 20.—Certain administration leaders in Congress predicted today that the bonus issue would be resurrected in swift and surprising fashion after the defeat of the inflationary Patman bill—a defeat which the leaders call a mathematical certainty.

They claimed 40 or 41 votes in the Senate to sustain the veto message which President Roosevelt is to deliver in person against the Patman bill, most likely Wednesday. But their more surprising news was this:

One administration chief, who is represented as thinking it would be

"Cold Shoulders"

Washington, May 20.—(AP)—Five members of the Senate liberal bloc walked out of the chamber today as Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, took the oath as successor to the late Bronson Cutting, Republican.

As the 44-year-old Chavez, a former member of the House, went to the dais on the arm of Senator Hatch (D. N. M.) Senators Johnson of California, Norris of Nebraska, Nye of North Dakota, Republican independents, Shipstead, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota and LaFollette, Progressive of Wisconsin, walked out of the chamber.

They returned after Vice President Garner had administered the oath to Chavez.

THIRTEEN DIE IN SOUTHWEST STORMS SUNDAY

Flood and Tornadoes in Oklahoma, Texas Over Week End

BULLETIN
Oklahoma City, May 20.—(AP)—Three hundred families were ordered from their homes in the Oklahoma City lowlands today by City Manager O. M. Mosier as a 16-foot wall of water was reported sweeping toward the city on the Canadian river.

The families will be cared for in a tent community to be established by city, state and Federal authorities in a city park.

Mosier issued the order after he was advised the flood waters will reach Oklahoma City late today.

Dallas, Tex., May 20.—(AP)—A path of death and destruction was left today by flood and tornadoes which swept across parts of Texas and Oklahoma over the week-end.

Thirteen persons were dead, several were missing and scores were injured as the floods and storms caused damage unofficially estimated at more than $2,000,000 to highways, bridges, railroads, crops, livestock, business buildings and homes. Dangers of further rises, unless more rain fell, apparently had passed.

Flood waters of Turkey creek and the north fork of the Red river near Altus, Okla., caused heavy damages and at least three persons were killed in that section.

Ten persons were killed in Texas. Four were killed when the auto in which they were riding crashed through a bridge over the Red river. J. P. Pickrell, driver, was rescued last night nine miles down the river.

The worst of the storms hit north, central and east Texas, twisters destroying business houses and homes, and swollen streams battering down bridges, inundating farm lands and sweeping away livestock.

Zeigler's New Council Refuses Pay Increase

Zeigler, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—John H. Carr, newly elected mayor of Zeigler, and his board of aldermen have refused an increase in salary.

Carr said his administration does not want the raise in pay approved by the previous city administration because the present board was elected on an economy platform. The city, he said, is in no condition to stand useless expenditures.

Ball and Chain Being Revived for Benton

Benton, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—The ball and chain for evil doers is to be revived in Benton.

With Franklin county's quota at the state penal farm at Vandalia exhausted, making it impossible to send more offenders to that institution, Police Chief Ralph Newman has decided to resort to the old ordinance and work prisoners on the city streets with a ball and chain attached to their legs.

One Veto Will Not Rid Roosevelt of Bonus Troubles, Leaders State

good politics for the bonus to be paid this year, has made another pool of his own. He reported that 72 Senators would support a plan to push through a bonus bill in the form of a rider on another measure—giving the President a choice of three ways of paying the adjusted service certificates, instead of the single method of new currency contained in the Patman bill.

The proposed rider would direct that the bonus be paid. It would, however, leave to the President the choice between issuing currency, borrowing or taking the money out of his $400,000,000 public works fund.

MOTORISTS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Police Instructed to Enforce City Traffic Ordinance to the Letter

Commissioner Cal G. Tyler of the department of public health and safety has issued orders to the police for rigid enforcement of the city's traffic ordinances. This order follows a period during which the department has been conducting a careful check of violations in all parts of the city, with special attention to the business district. Repeated warnings have been given, and cards issued to drivers who have disregarded the ordinances, but with little success in eliminating the offenses.

Chief J. D. VanBibber recently reported an increase in the number of violations of the city's traffic ordinances and an apparent disregard for the safety of the motoring public. The chief has been conducting a general survey for several days checking the various forms of violations which have been reported to Commissioner Tyler.

Provisions Cited.
The enforcement order issued this morning calls particular attention of motorists about fast driving within the city limits, double parking, failure to stop at stop signs, parking and driving on the wrong side of the street and leaving cars parked longer than the one hour period in the downtown district.

Commissioner Tyler, commenting upon the enforcement order issued today said:

"Many complaints have come to the police department about the double parking nuisance and beginning today double parking will not be permitted. In some cases it has amounted to a real fire hazard, double parking preventing the passage of the fire fighting equipment. This is also true of the alleys which must be kept clear to comply with the state law. "All traffic ordinances exist for the safety and convenience of the citizens of Dixon and the full cooperation of every automobile driver is requested in this campaign to eliminate traffic violations of every kind and nature. A motor vehicle may be operated just as efficiently, by complying with the laws and ordinances, and much more economically than by violations."

Banker Played Golf as Prelude to Convention

Decatur, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—Play before business was the order today as bankers from all over the state met for the 45th annual convention of the Illinois Bankers' Association. Golf was the only thing on the morning program.

The first business meeting was to get under way in midafternoon in Masonic Temple, with an address by H. A. Brinkman, Chicago, president of the association. H. S. Szymczak, Chicago, member of the Federal Reserve Board, was to close the session with an address on "Recent Relations of the Federal Reserve System with Business and Industry."

Hundreds of Workers Expected in Capital

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—Leaders of the Illinois Workers Alliance today said they expect several thousand unemployed persons to gather in Springfield tomorrow in a mass demonstration against the closing of relief stations and the plan to reopen them with a three per cent sales tax.

The first members of the alliance are expected to arrive late in the afternoon. Gerry Allard, local leader, said plans have been made for establishing and policing a permanent camp at which the demonstrators will stay until relief funds are again distributed.

Use Dixon Cement

Almost 5,000 barrels of Medusa cement from the plant east of Dixon are to be used in construction projects in Lee county during the summer months. This is in addition to several much larger orders that are expected to be filled from the local plant. Mayor William V. Slothower is addressing personal communications to several cities, towns and villages in this vicinity requesting the use of the Dixon-made cement in improvements to be completed during the summer.

The building of the West Brooklyn spur, the contract for which was left Friday by the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors, will take upward of 3,500 barrels, to be used by the O'Brien Co., of Morris, Ill. R. R. Board of LaMoille, who is building the new three span concrete bridge over the Seven Mile branch creek on the Lowell park road, will use 954 barrels of Dixon-made cement in completing this improvement.

I. N. U. GRANTED APPEAL OF CASE IN HENRY COURT

Decision Ordering Power Company Out of Geneseo Fought

Cambridge, Ill., May 20.—Judge J. Paul Caffi, in Henry county circuit court Saturday, after sustaining conclusions favorable to the city of Geneseo in its suit to oust the Illinois Northern Utilities Co., granted an appeal presented by Henry Waterman, attorney for the power company.

As a result, the case will pass from the jurisdiction of the circuit bench. Observers say that the case undoubtedly will go to the Supreme Court.

Judge Caffi returned a decision favorable to the city, upholding the conclusions and recommendations of Erman A. King, special master-in-chancery, who took evidence in the case. Mr. King, in his statement of conclusions, and recommendations, upheld the city in every point. The city is now operating a municipal power plant, while the utilities company, operating in the city without a franchise, is competing.

The special master-in-chancery concluded that the power concern has no right to maintain a distribution system on city streets, nor to contract to sell electric energy, and he recommended that the court issue a mandatory injunction to compel the utilities company to remove its poles and other property, immediately, from city streets, and to cease serving residents of the city with electrical energy.

RICHBERG ASKS NRA EXTENSION

Pleads for Two Year Continuation of Existing Blue Eagle Set-up

Washington, May 20.—(AP)—Complete "disintegration and deterioration of the whole industrial recovery program" if the senate's ten months NRA extension resolution becomes law, was forecast by Donald R. Richberg today before the house ways and means committee.

"To extend the act only nine and one-half months under the pressure of those opposing the NRA," the chief of the recovery agency testified, "actually invites continuing opposition, non-compliance and litigation for the purpose of persuading the congress to let the act die in the next session."

Committeemen listened closely as Richberg stood at a small speaker's stand, addressing them earnestly and describing the senate's extension bill as "demoralizing."

"The provisions of the resolution are unworkable and inadequate to accomplish its desired intention," Richberg asserted.

Foes "May Be Honest"
Ways and means committee Democrats already have indicated they favor the two year extension requested by President Roosevelt. On that point, Richberg told the committee:

"An extension of two years is absolutely necessary to maintain adequate personnel, work out problems of code administration; strengthen enforcement x x x and to prevent the entire breakdown of labor and fair trade practice provisions by chiselers who already are at work undermining the standards of fair competition."

Richberg agreed there might be honest opposition to the NRA but contended "there must be something less than candor, something less than forthright antagonism" in attempts to clip the blue eagle's wings.

Turning to the senate's bar against codes affecting intrastate commerce, he described that as "a loose and vague phrase" which "opens the door to universal evasion of code requirements."

"Egyptian" Republican Delegation Hits IERC

Harrisburg, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—Twenty-fourth congressional district Republicans today were on record as condemning the state relief commission for alleged inefficiency and favoritism.

In a resolution adopted at a meeting here yesterday, the Republicans voted on opposition to an increase in the sales tax, asserting the present two per cent levy would provide sufficient funds for relief clients not cared for by the government's gigantic public works program.

Uncle Suspicious

Washington, May 20.—(AP)—There were indications today that Federal investigators will check up on the resources of cities which say they are too poor to contribute anything toward the cost of work relief projects.

The threat of such investigation, it was said reliably, is counted on to discourage communities from taking false "pauper's oaths."

Leaders of President Roosevelt's $4,000,000,000 works program have announced that 100 per cent grants will be made to cities which have no funds available and have exhausted their borrowing power.

Some officials expressed fear a few days ago that this policy would bring a rush of applications describing dire local conditions.

Hopkins has disclosed that local officials will not be allowed to administer work relief money in cities which do not bear a share of the cost. Federal employees will be in charge.

"JIMMY" PENNY DIED AT EARLY HOUR SUNDAY

Popular Former Road Commissioner Called to His Maker

James F. Penny, one of the best known and most popular officials of Dixon township during his long and faithful service as commissioner of highways, passed away at his home east of Dixon on the River road at about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. He had been in failing health for several months but his last illness, which was of about three weeks duration, proved most serious and in his weakened condition, he failed to rally.

"Jimmy" was born in New York City, coming to this vicinity as a young man and making his residence in Dixon and vicinity for the past 40 years. His election to the position of commissioner of highways in Dixon township came at a time when a state wide program was started to improve highways in Illinois. In his position he was most successful and for a period of 16 consecutive years, was one of the most active highway commissioners of Lee county. His success in this work and his always pleasing manner won for him a host of friends who join in mourning his passing.

He is survived by his widow and one brother, William of Quincy, Ill. Funeral services will be conducted from his late home Tuesday morning at 8:45 and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30. Rev. T. L. Walsh officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood.

New State Park is Dedicated Sunday

Grafton, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—The Pere Marquette, the state's newest and largest park, has been dedicated.

Overlooking the confluence of the Mississippi and the Illinois rivers, the 1650 acre park was dedicated yesterday at ceremonies attended by more than 2,000 persons.

Governor Horner had expected to take part in the dedication but the relief crisis kept him in Springfield so he sent his administrative assistant, Alexander Wilson, to represent him.

Much of the improvements in the park have been constructed by two Civilian Conservation Corps. Paths and roadways have been made through the heavily timbered hills and valleys. A large recreational hall has been constructed of virgin timber and many other facilities provided so as to make of the park the playground for the east side industrial district it is intended to be.

Sentiment to Eliminate Emergency Clause in Tax Bill Given New Support

Horner's Radio Talk Fails to End Talk of Such Action

Chicago, May 20.—(AP)—Sentiment for abandonment of the emergency clause in sales tax bills, designed to end immediately Illinois' relief tangle, had strong support today despite Governor Horner's insistence that the legislature not permit 1,200,000 to face possible starvation for six weeks.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, here for a week-end visit, both expressed the belief that the impasse could best be solved by passing the sales tax bills as regular measures, which would make them effective July 1.

Lewis said that he believed federal authorities would relent on their denial of relief funds if that action were taken.

Horner pointing to empty relief coffers in most of the state's 102 counties, reaffirmed his demand in a direct appeal to the public over a radio hookup last night, that the legislature make a sales tax increase effective immediately to insure quick response from Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, who has withheld the state's allotments since May 1.

Many Cupboards Bare.
Cupboards were bare in thousands of homes today where no food orders have been received for a week or more because the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission has no funds. Mailing of grocery orders to 75,000 Cook county relief clients was passed today, bringing to more than 100,000 the number of families in the county without the usual food supplies received from state relief.

The sales tax bills will be brought to a vote in the house for a fifth time tomorrow, with political observers granting them their best opportunity to pass to date.

Meanwhile many counties acted to relieve local situations temporarily as food shortage among families of the unemployed became acute.

The Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday joined the Illinois Federation of Labor in voting support of the sales tax increase bills by 69 to 55.

Employment Aids Load.
Among the counties which still had relief funds sufficient for the week were McLean, Rock Island and Lee. Rock Island and Danville both reported that private employment had lightened the relief load some recently.

YOUTH TAUGHT WAGES OF PETTY CRIME

Twenty-four boys from a New York settlement house were crowded into patrol wagons and taken to prison the other day. They had done nothing wrong; the whole stunt was arranged by settlement house workers and city officials to give the lads a look at the wages of sin.

So these lads went to prison, handcuffed and everything, and sat for a few hours in cells, and found out what it feels like to be "mugged" and fingerprinted and to have steel doors clang shut behind them; and they emerged, presumably, convinced that the life of a law-breaker is not so pleasant as it is sometimes painted.

As a means of persuading youth to watch its step, a program like this ought to be all to the good. It might occur to a cynic, however, that the lesson could really be carried somewhat farther. A little more of an object lesson might help the lads to understand the real nature of America's crime problem.

As a first step, they could be taken to the lair of some big-shot racketeer and watch him contributing to a politician's campaign fund, receiving the thanks of the politician, and chatting chummily with a judge and a police captain whose appointment that politician controls.

Then they could go down the line a bit and see the big shot in action; see him providing election booth slugs for the politician on election day, passing out bundles of banknotes to various political leaders in return for the favor of being permitted to operate his illicit business without restraint, and so on.

After that they might watch the big shot when the law tries to catch up with him.

They could observe the politics-hampered cops failing to turn in the kind of evidence that results in convictions. They could see a district attorney, mindful of his debt to the political boss, purposely fumbling the ball so that the grand jury would return a no bill.

They could see the judge mentioned above setting a low bail figure, accepting worthless bail bonds, and granting to the big shot's lawyer a long series of continuances and postponements.

Lastly, they could see the big shot in prison with the politically dominated warden permitting him to loll at ease in a cozy hospital ward instead of a cell and to receive visitors from the outside without hindrance; and to wind things up they could see an unscrupulous governor and parole board tapping the big shot on the wrist and turning him loose.

All this might not make a very pleasant picture for these lads to witness. But it would help them to understand why large-scale crime remains a problem in America.

A FRAUD STANDS REVEALED

It is not in the least surprising to learn that a Swiss court has declared the notorious "Protocols of Zion" an absolute forgery, devoid of the slightest historical significance. The only surprising thing is that it should take a court decision to make anyone realize that this virulent product of race hatred was a fraud from start to finish.

The "protocols," of course, purport to be documentary evidence of a vast scheme by Jewish leaders to dominate the whole world. The best evidence shows that the manuscript was cooked up something like 75 years ago; and the thing was aimed originally, not at Jews, but at Free Masons!

During the course of years someone decided to tack the thing on to "international Jewry" and leave the Masons out of it. That was done; and the concoction has done much, since then, to fan the flames of race prejudice.

It would be well if this Swiss decision should help to make people forget the whole business.

ESCAPE FROM REALITY

The confirmed alcoholic suffers from alcohol less than he suffers from himself, according to a report recently made to the American Psychiatric Association by Dr. James H. Wall of Bloomingdale hospital. He makes a lot of himself, that is, to escape from a mental conflict rather than because he likes the taste of the stuff.

Excessive drinking, viewed in this light, is simply a reflection of a weakness of will. The drunkard is dissatisfied with himself, with his life generally; instead of doing his best to grin and bear it, as ordinary folk do, he tries to escape by swilling at the jug—and, of course, winds up by making a bad matter a great deal worse.

Bearing this in mind, it would seem that the cure for the alcoholic would consist in helping him to face reality like a man. His inebriety is a sign and an aggravation of his trouble, but not its cause.

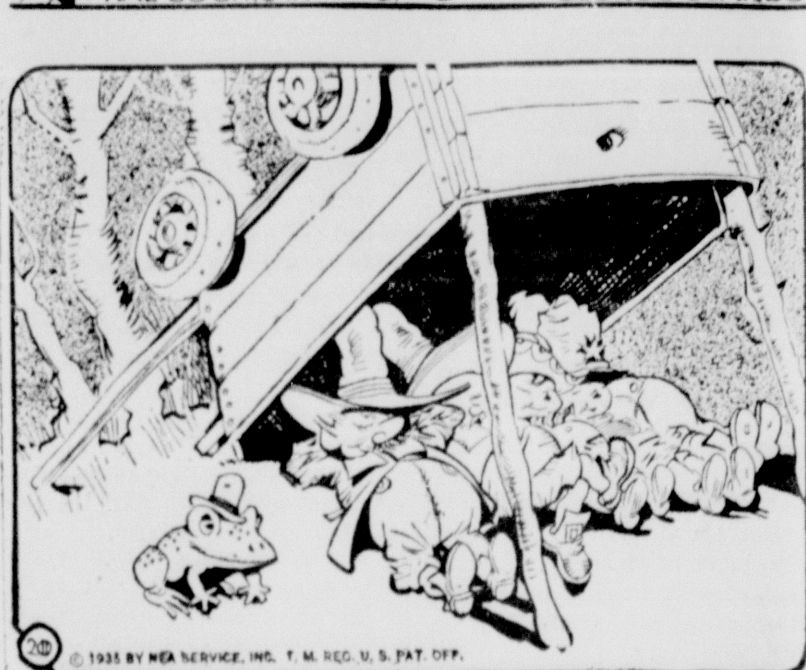

Yes, sirree, this government is too rich. The best kind of government you can get is a poor one.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, Georgia.

Of all the quivering, vacillating, responsibility-dodging gangs ever assembled under one canvas in Washington, the NRA is the greatest show on earth.—Robert H. Pritchard, chairman, Joint National Code Authority.

It was like a bachelor who goes along fine for 25 years and then decides to get married. I am married to America. It is so beautiful.—Gertrude Stein.

Never was there a time when so many chances for service beckoned to a man to go out and do something for his fellow men.—Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The ink man's horse seemed very strong. He kept on traveling right along, despite the fact that six Tinymites and three gnomes were his load.

The gnome who held the reins in hand, exclaimed, "I think this ride is grand. I will do my best to try to keep this horse upon the road."

"Aw, let him go where ever he will," said Scouty. "It will be a real thrill to travel round the forest, if the wagon will pass through."

"As long as we are safe and sound, what do we care where we are bound? All I am hoping is that we will soon see something new."

"Don't worry," said a little gnome "Around the country we will roam, and then we are going to take you to an interesting place."

"I know you've never been there before and hence a real treat is in store." "Oh, goody, goody," wee Goldy shouted, with a smile upon her face.

About an hour passed by, and then the Tinymites were startled when the little driver jerked the reins and loudly shouted, "Whoa!"

"Hey, what is the matter?" brave Scouty cried. "Why are you stopping our fine ride?" "Be patient, my lad," the gnome replied. "You very soon will know."

"You see, day is turning into night, and while it might be quite all right to travel in the dark, I think it best that we stop here."

"Well, use our wagon as a tent. No better place have you ever spent a night. Come on and help me tip it over. There's naught to fear."

The horse was then tied to a tree and Coppy loudly shouted, "Gee, this is a dandy hunch." The wagon then was flopped right over.

Beneath it everyone crawled, and soon, in comfort they were all sprawled. "Good night, all of you gnomes," said Doty. "I hope you don't snore."

"Duncy does one of his crazy tricks in the next story."

PROTECTION AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS: II

The most promising work in the production of a vaccine against infantile paralysis is based upon the use of altered polio virus. Much of the credit for this development belongs to American scientists.

The virus — the microscopically invisible disease-causing agent of infantile paralysis—has been weakened or altered in a variety of ways and the vaccine has been employed to develop resistance in susceptible individuals.

The methods have varied. It was shown by experiments on monkeys that when the live virus is injected under the skin of monkeys they ultimately develop resistance to polio without apparently suffering any evil effects from the injection. This method is too hazardous to apply to human beings.

Immunity against polio has also been produced in monkeys who were injected with a mixture of virus and immune serum. Still another method of producing immunity is by means of a virus which has been modified by contact with the chemical substance known as aluminum hydroxide.

A third method, producing a vaccine which has been experimentally employed on quite a number of human subjects, consists of exposing the virus to the action of formalin, a chemical preservative.

All of the above listed vaccines have proved effective in the development of resistance or immunity in the vaccinated subjects. The reason why different vaccines are being tried is that we are eager to develop one that will be absolutely safe and effective.

It is worthy of note that while much of this experimental work has been done on monkeys, in the last analysis the tests of vaccines prepared for human use have in a number of instances been made by the scientists upon themselves.

To summarize therefore, the promise of a specific protection against polio is good.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

The Sleeping Beauty of fairy tale fame has her counterpart in the world of reality, and the story which tells of the princess awakened by the Prince Charming has more than passing psychological significance.

In medicine the condition of prolonged somnolence is called narcolepsy, the term being derived from the Greek word narcosis, meaning numbing, and lepsis, meaning a seizure.

Narcolepsy is not a rare condition. In a recent survey of medical literature, 270 cases were found recorded. A study of these cases and the literature surrounding them reveals that narcolepsy is not looked upon as a disease but rather as a symptom, which may occur in a variety of disease conditions.

Attacks of narcolepsy have been observed following cases of inflammation of the brain, subsequent to head injuries and cerebral concussion. Narcolepsy has been witnessed in cases of brain tumors, in hardening of the blood vessels of the brain, and in other conditions.

Furthermore, narcolepsy has been found associated with certain other symptoms in which there was no evident structural change or involvement of the nervous system.

In this latter type of case it has been thought that narcolepsy represents a psychological regression—the attacks of sleep serving as a means of escape from unpleasant reality.

While the narcoleptic seizures of long duration arouse deep public interest, those of shorter duration are of equal medical interest. "Attacks of sleep" may last from a few minutes to hours, months or years, and may occur at any time of the day and under all kinds of circumstances. One patient is reported to have fallen asleep while riding a bicycle.

The depth of the sleep varies from full relaxation of muscle tone to borderline stages of somnolence. There is no specific treatment for narcolepsy, though recently epinephrine has been reported to have been of value in some cases.

WHEN FOLKS COME HOME

When folks come home, as folks will do,

To catch a glimpse of childhood's view,

There's something seems to come along

That gives a thrill to every song.

They scatter greetings here and there,

Among old friends, beyond compare,

And as they clasp and shake the hand,

A finer feeling rules the land.

An added zest is felt once more

To have so close those friends of yore,

Whose visits always seem to bring

New life to almost everything.

There's joy and happiness abounds.

One never hears discordant sounds.

It seems somehow, from head to feet,

That throbbing life now has its treat.

The world knows naught of hate or fear

When friendly folks are drawing near.

Forgotten are the ills of life,

As sunshine paints the clouds of strife.

The smile of lips will truly try

To match the welcome of the eye,

And as the competition gains,

It banishes the aches and pains.

Oh, how we love those folks we know,

We see them come; we see them go.

But it is true, where'er they roam,

That love awaits when folks come home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 19.

The Golden Text was, "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death" (Proverbs 12:28).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me; for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:1, 4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

"PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH"

The "Pennsylvania Dutch" who play so important a part in the life and history of that state, and of the nation, are almost entirely of German and German-Swiss descent. The word "Dutch" is simply an English form of "Deutsch" and related words of the Germanic tongues. It was formerly applied to all peoples of Germanic stock or language, and it is only in comparatively late usage that its application has been more or less restricted to Hollanders.

EARLIEST KINDS OF SOAP

Pliny speaks of two kinds of soap, hard and soft, as used by the Germans. He mentions it as originally a Gallic invention for giving a bright hue to the hair. It is probable that soap came to the Romans from Germany. Although soap is referred to in the Old Testament, authorities believe that ashes of plants or other such purifying agents are implied. The earliest kinds of soap appear to have been made of goat's tallow and beech ash. As early as the Thirteenth century, however, a factory for making soap from olive oil was established at Marseille. Soap making was introduced into England during the next century.

REDS DOWNED; GIANTS' STAR HURLER HITS

Hal Schumacher Adds To His Victories; Belts Homer

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.)
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Although a couple of seasons ago it might have been a simple matter to become a "jinx" to the Cincinnati Reds, Hal Schumacher has carried it so far it threatens to become a serious affair now that the Reds are heading toward better things.

Since he broke into the National League as a regular in 1932, Schumacher has never lost a game to the Reds. Now, going into his fourth season, he has stretched his wins to 13 games with a tie as the only interruption. The 13th triumph yesterday was almost as shaky an affair as the drawn battle two weeks ago.

After building up an early lead, the Giants saw it fade away when a homer by Alex Kampouris started a sixth inning flurry that tied the score at 5-5, and they had to go ten innings to win out 6-5.

Besides flinging a fine game except for that one inning Schumacher knocked in three runs with a homer, a double and a long fly and did a lot of fielding to help out the crippled Giant infield.

The victory enabled the New Yorkers, who looked as if they would be lucky to escape with their uniforms intact when Dick Bartell, Hughie Critz and Travis Jackson were put on the sidelines, to win the series 2-1, and increase their lead over Brooklyn to two games again.

Took Second Beating
The Dodgers took their second straight licking from Pittsburgh, 9 to 6 when a four-run flurry against Harry Elyenstat in the eighth settled the swinging match. Brooklyn retained second place, however, as the Chicago Cubs yielded to the Phillies for the second time, 3 to 1, on Lou Chiozza's homer with two aboard and Sy Johnson's fine relief hurling.

Dizzy Dean led the Cardinals to a 7 to 3 triumph over the Braves that placed them just a half game behind Chicago. In addition to pitching a seven-hit game, he belted a single with the bases full to climax the game-winning four run rally in the eighth.

After one day in third place the American League, the Cleveland Indians returned to second with a 1 to 0 victory over the Yankees in the day's keenest battle in the junior circuit.

Walter Stewart, making his first Cleveland start, got the better of an 11-inning mound argument with Charley Ruffing when Red Rolfe and Bill Dickey collided going after Lou Berger's bunt and the hit paved the way for the only run.

Chicago's White Sox continued to pull ahead with a 6 to 5 triumph over Boston, although "silent" John Whitehead, rookie hurling sensation, failed for the first time to go the route. He was belted out in a four run spurt in the ninth but got credit for his sixth straight victory.

The Detroit Tigers took the odd game and fifth place from Washington, slamming out 19 hits and a 16 to 6 victory while the Athletics consolidated their hold on seventh by trimming the Browns for the third straight time, 6 to 5, with Doc Cramer's seventh-inning home run, providing the winning margin.

Earl Meadows, University of Southern California pole vaulter, thought he had chalked up a new world record in his event when his body cleared the bar at 14 feet 6 3/4 inches. But as he threw back from the pole, his hand deceived him, knocking the bar into the pit. Meadows is shown here just as the offending member was about to fall him during the Trojan-Stanford meet at Palo Alto.

Dixon Rallies in Ninth Inning, Beats LaSalle- Peru 8-7; Dodgers Win

Kehrt, Nays Slam Out Homers; Nelson Loses 5 to 4

Dick Kehrt's home run, belted into deep left field in the last half of the ninth inning, and Gene Lebre's single which scored Shires Miller who had gained the paths on a hard double, enabled the Dixon Independents to overcome a two run lead, and score an 8 to 7 triumph over the Illinois Valley All-Stars of LaSalle-Peru, Sunday afternoon at Airport field.

The invaders took an early lead by bunching eight hits in the third and fourth stanzas making five of them good for runs, while their hurler, Wisthere, clamped the locals down with one lone hit. In the third frame, Gapinski, All-Stars' right fielder, knocked a triple scoring Piletic and Subkowski next at bat cracked a double to bring home Gapinski.

Gain Two Runs
The locals picked up two runs in the last of the fourth. Shires Miller was walked, and Lebre connected for a good single. Bush next to the plate, raced to first when Subowski bobbled his fly into center field, and Lebre scored, following Shires home. McClintock advanced him to second with a single. Mulcahey was walked on his second trip to bat, and Bush attempting to steal base between second and third was caught in a hot box and put out. After Kelsey fled out, McDonald reached first on Kalman's error at third, but was stranded with Mulcahey on the paths as Kehrt fled out to second. Kays belted a homer in the fifth inning into deep right field placing the score at 6-3 in favor of the All-Stars.

The LaSalle-Peru nine added another pair of tallies in the seventh when Tabor knocked a single and Subowski a two-bagger. Gray replacing Kalman, third in line, brought them both home with a good single. Dixon countered with two runs in the eighth, Lebre's double scoring Emmert, and Kehrt's Miller had singled to reach first, but was caught on a steal to second and retired. Martin struck out as the side was retired.

Each side reached their opposition hurlers for 11 hits. "Smoky" Joe Miller and Kelsey were assigned Dixon's mound duty, the former being removed in the fourth inning when struck by a pitched ball, on his only trip to the plate. Wisthere went the full route in his game for LaSalle-Peru, but was exceedingly wild, injuring four Dixon batsmen with uncontrollable pitches.

DODGERS WIN 5-4
A three run rally in the third inning of an abbreviated seven inning preliminary contest, gave the Dixon Dodgers a 5 to 4 victory over the Nelson Cardinals at the Airport. Sunday afternoon. The game was a certain raiser to the Independents-LaSalle-Peru game.

Nelson got away to a fast start in the first frame by taking a 2-0 lead on Bergonz, and Janssens' runs, both of them having been walked before Henry of the local pitching staff, got his delivery under control. Hunt, Nelson hurler, singled both runners home. Flanagan started the ball rolling for the Dodgers by singling on his first trip to the plate. After Randall was walked, Helfrich scored Flanagan, and Randall by singling. The former had stolen third.

Cards Bunch 3 Hits
The enemy bunched three hits in the third stanza counting another pair of runs. After Bergonz and Janssens had been retired in quick order, Bohken landed on Henry's delivery for a single, followed by Knoll's single in his second trip. Hunt also singled into the right infield over Hasselberg's head, and tallied both Cardinal runners.

The locals exploded with their brace of runs in the third also. Scriven was retired on first on an assist from Bergonz to Bartholomew but Flanagan maintained his 1000 per cent batting average by knocking his second single of the afternoon. Randall advanced to first when Thompson bobbled an easy pop fly. Helfrich whiffed, but Henry solved Hunt's delivery for a neat double counting Flanagan and Randall. Hasselberg followed suit with another two bagger bringing Henry home. He was left aboard by Witzleb's strikeout. The Dodgers played errorless ball.

Boxing At Airport

Matchmaker Ed Hooker of the Dixon Boxing Association, today announced a card of seven bouts to be presented Friday evening of this week at the Dixon Municipal Airport hangar. The program has not been completed entirely and will be announced later. He has been successful in booking Elwood "Kid" McReynolds, the Dixon colored flash, who will appear in the feature bout against Johnny Martin of Springfield. Martin is a top-notch in the 147-pound division from the Capitol City, where he has been three times winner in his class but because of ineligibility was unable to enter the 1935 Golden Gloves tournament at Chicago. McReynolds is expected to be a contender in the matches between the Italian and American teams at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday evening and will feature the card here Friday evening, which is expected to draw a capacity crowd.

Pat Reynolds Showed Amboy Team Classy Pitching Sunday

Featured by the one-hit pitching of "Pat" Reynolds the Dixon Panthers repulsed a fighting Amboy baseball nine 5 to 2 at Amboy, Sunday afternoon.

Reynolds fanned sixteen Amboy batsmen and allowed walks to only three. Two of the Amboyites scored the hosts' only pair of tallies. The only Amboy hit was a pop fly which was misjudged by Carlson, and knocked by Trickett, Amboy hurler.

The Panthers on the other hand converted most of their hits. Only four men were left on the paths. Jack Burke scored Whited and Slain in the third inning, with a single, and Whited counted Wolford in both the fifth and sixth frames with a single and a double. James Burke scored the final Panther run in the ninth when Walls tripled. Wolford also connected for a double.

DIXON HIGH, BARBS SHARE TENNIS WINS

Successful Meet Is Held Here; Gave DeKalb Title

Dixon high won the doubles matches, for two points and DeKalb high the singles honors in the title with four points in the N. C. I. conference tennis tournament held on the local high school courts Saturday. Every N. C. I. school except Rochelle was represented in the tourney.

In the singles matches, Danielson of DeKalb captured a first round victory over Durkes by a two set margin, 6-0, 6-2, and came through the semi-final bracket unscathed by subduing Bridson of Belvidere 3-6, 6-3, and 6-4. Bridson seemed headed for a match triumph by upsetting the DeKalb racket-wielder 6-3 in the first set but couldn't maintain the sustained pace of Danielson. Bridson won his right to the semi-final bracket by downing Cies of Sterling by identically the same score that he was beaten by Danielson.

Two other first round matches ended with Jarvis of Belvidere victorious over Myers of Sterling, 6-2, 6-4, and Grotwald, DeKalb triumphant over Jenks of Dixon, 6-2, 6-2. In the semi-finals, Grotwald then trounced Jarvis, 6-2, 6-2, no finals were necessary because both finalists were from DeKalb.

Double Easy Time

Dixon's doubles team, Brown and Evans defeated a DeKalb pair, Pottenberg and Lundberg for the doubles crown. In the first round of this department of the tourney, Littlejohn and Thompson of DeKalb humbled Sims and Johnson of Sterling, 6-1, 6-1. Brown and Evans, Dixon, beat Eyebaugh and Moss, Mendota, 6-1, 6-0 without extending themselves. Neuman and Pell, Belvidere, won a first round victory over Stable and Sangrey, Sterling, but not without difficulty.

After extending the Belvidere pair into a lengthy 9-7 deuce set, the Sterling courtmen rallied and reversed the tables 6-4 in their favor in the second set. The Belvidere netters came back with a rush however and took set and match 6-1. Pottenberg and Lundberg, DeKalb won their right to enter the finals against Brown and Evans by downing Nichols and Snow of Dixon, 6-3, 6-0 in the first round and in the semi-finals the DeKalb team drubbed Huss and Smith Mendota, who had worked into that bracket by drawing a first round bye.

Troop 110, Franklin Grove

The Boy Scouts met at the Scout hall Friday evening. The meeting was opened with the usual Scout ceremonies. The new Junior officers were appointed for the months of May and June. Johnny Hatch was appointed patrol leader for the Wolf patrol, with Junior Herwig as assistant. Courtney Schafer was appointed patrol leader and John Hain assistant for the Bob White patrol. Ted Phillips was made Scribe and John Senger the Reporter. The Scoutmaster then announced that Troop No. 67 from Dixon was encamped at Iron Spring and the Franklin Grove Scouts were to make an Indian attack upon them. Approaching the camp by automobiles, the Scouts stealthily entered the woods on foot behind the camp. At the signal of toms-toms and war-whoops, the Scouts bore down upon the camp of the Dixon Scouts. Surprised, the Dixon Scouts pursued and captured their "enemies." After introductions were made, an hour of campfire was spent by the two troops.

TRACK AND GOLF OCCUPY PURPLE AND WHITE MEN

Sterling Township's High Track Team Here Tomorrow

Track and golf will keep Purple and White high school athletes busy today and tomorrow.

Athletic Director A. C. Bowers' track and field team collides with Sterling Township high on the Dixon field tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 P. M. in a dual meet that will be packed with thrills only these two rivals can produce when they get together in any sport. Dixon is favored to capture the javelin, broad jump, and dash events handily, and also the hurdles. Sterling, however, is in a position to make things tough for the locals in the distance events, and the pole vault. Vipond, flashy Black and Gold vaulter, soared over the bar at better than 11 feet in the Gateway Classic at Clinton, May 4. He trailed only Merwin of Woodstock state contender in that department who vaulted 12 feet 6 inches.

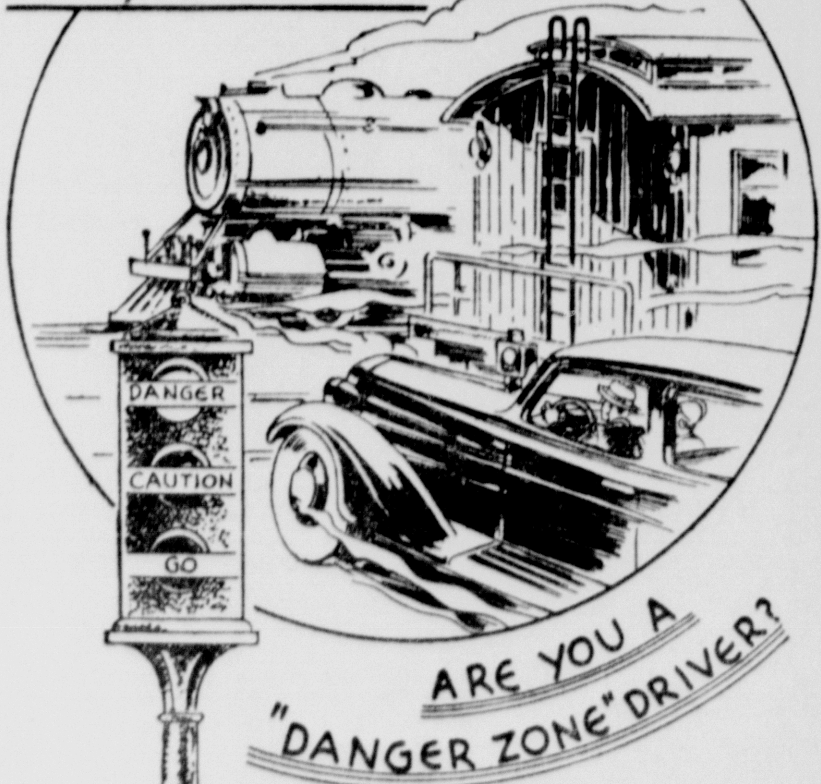

Coach C. B. Lindell's golf team will contest Preepoot today. In the line-up of the Dixon high foursome will be Durkes, Krug, Longman and Reis according to present plans. Dixon's latest victim in golf was Sterling, defeated 11 to 1 on its own links, Twin City Country club last week. In addition, the locals hold a pair of victories over DeKalb losing only to Rockford's Rabs this spring in a match that was played on the Country club links here.

BULL DOES NOT HATE RED
Experiments made at the University of California have proved that a bull's reaction to the color of red is no more than that to any other color. In fact, judging by the conduct of the steers tested, it seems doubtful whether they can tell red from green, white or blue. It is even possible that the animals have no realization of color at all.

BLANTON RATED
HIGHEST CLASS
ROOKIE OF YEARAll-Star Poll However
Leaning Toward the White Sox

Chicago, May 20.—(AP)—Johnny Whitehead of the White Sox and Pittsburgh's Cy Blanton, a pair of pitchers who have been making a lot of good hitters look like so many wooden Indians, today were named the prize rookies of 1935 by the major league managers.

Twenty-two rookies, a large majority of them from the south and west, were named by the pilots as the most likely to stick and go on to stardom. Flowers bloom in the spring and fade in the fall, but 22 were classed as hardy perennials with strength and ability to endure the rain and dust storms of baseball.

The American League outplayed the National, 12 to 10, in the poll taken by the "Old Professor" of The Associated Press with the White Sox and Athletics landing 3 rookies each. Including Blanton

Bell, Cavaretta Rate
 Bucky Harris of Washington thought of Bell of St. Louis first when he was polled, while Manager Charlie Grimm couldn't hand out enough flowers for Cavaretta, the 18-year-old Chicago highschool boy who hurried his manager's plans to retire as an active player.

Casey Stengel of Brooklyn arose to compliment one of his second year men, Linus Fey, who was named by several pilots as the most improved player in the National League. Said Casey:

"I think Pie Traynor and the others are correct in saying Cy Blanton is the outstanding rookie of the National League, but we have a great little kid named Linus Fey who deserves to be ranked very high in any list. Fey is a capable shortstop, a smart performer and he has a fine punch considering his size (he's 5 feet 10 and weighs 160 pounds). I also like Hank Leiber of the Giants. Hank is just beginning to show his skill."

And that's proof that someone in Brooklyn said they liked someone in New York.

and Whitehead, the following were named.

Vernon Washington and Ray (Ripper) Radcliff, White Sox outfielders; Louis Berger and Roy O. Hughes, Cleveland infielders; Roy (Beau) Bell, St. Louis Browns outfielder; Joe Sullivan, Detroit pitcher; first baseman Ellsworth Dalgren, Red Sox; southpaw pitcher Vito Tamulis, Yankees; pitcher Vernon Wilshire, first baseman Alex Hooks and outfielder Wallace Moses, Athletics; second baseman Alex Kampouris and outfielder Ival Gooberman, Cincinnati; pitcher C. Castleman and outfielder Henry Leiber, Giants; outfielder Terry Moore, St. Louis Cardinals; pitchers Jim Bivin and Orville Jorgens, Phillies; first baseman Phil Cavaretta and outfielder Augie Galan, Chicago Cubs.

No Compliments Spared
 No superlatives were spared in the cases of Blanton and Whitehead as the managers sent in their all-star choices. Among them were: Pie Traynor, Pittsburgh: "I feel Blanton is the most outstanding rookie in the National League. He has wonderful stuff and he is a natural." He has a fine temperament and is eager to learn. I would place Terry Moore next, although he has not batted up to his capabilities. He should be a great outfielder."

Jimmy Dykes, White Sox: "John Whitehead is the answer to a manager's prayer. He's marvelous." Walter Johnson of Cleveland, who can't see the White Sox, believes Joe Sullivan, Detroit pitcher, is the best rookie he has seen this season. He also praised his infield rookies, Berger and Hughes.

Joe McCarthy, who hasn't had a chance to see them all because of his illness, picked his own rookie pitcher, Tamulis as the best rookie bet and then tossed some bouquets at Moses and Wilshire of the Athletics.

Mickey Cochrane of Detroit, recalling how the White Sox helped his Tigers get off to a bad start, named all three of the Sox rookies with Berger and Hughes. He was most impressed with Whitehead.

Bell, Cavaretta Rate

WHEN BALL LIT BESIDE TREE, TURNESA MADE
 SOUTHPAW BIRDIE

ONEA
 The greatest golf shot executed by Joe Turnesa came on the third hole of the second round of the 1930 North and South Open, at Pinehurst, N. C.

"On this hole, my drive was down the middle, but my second hit with a spade, ended up beside a tree. I was unable to take a proper stance for lack of room, and was forced to play the shot left-handed."

"Turning the club around so that the toe was pointing toward the ground, I swung and connected with the ball perfectly. No little surprise, I saw it drop in the cup for a birdie three."

Turnesa finished the 72 holes with a total of 294, which was good for a tie for third place along with Tommy Armour and Billy Burke. Had Joe not made the spectacular shot, he would have finished sixth.

This is not a freak shot. It is played much in the same manner as a right-handed shot, except that the action is reversed.

The pitch of the blade is controlled by turning the club to the left, if a great deal of loft is desired or to the right if the ball is to be kept fairly low. A firm grip with

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McEllott © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

The girl, lying limp amidst the pillows in the cool, low-ceiled upper room, heard Michael's step on the stair.

"Little devil," said Michael thoughtfully, of the terrier.

"Oh, the poor thing didn't mean to be mischievous. He was only a puppy," Katharine wasn't conscious of the meaning of the words. She only knew she had to say something, while Michael continued to stare at her like a man bemused. There was a subtle singing in her blood; her pulses thudded . . .

"Oh!" Violet Merser widened her eyes at the tone. "Do you want to see him?"

Color washed across Katharine's face like a tide, leaving her mute and helpless. "I—I don't know."

The older woman's gaze was touched with compassion and with something else, perhaps. She had heard Bertine's fretful voice a few hours before.

"Perhaps it would be wise. He's been ringing up all day. Guess he's been fearfully worried."

"If you think it would be all right . . ."

"Of course, I do."

MICHAEL had to stoop his head a trifle to enter the door.

"Miss Strykhurst is just splendid," said Violet Merser easily. "I'll go speak to Lavinia for a moment."

Those little Indians of mine have gone off the reservation."

She was gone, with a faint rustle of silk like a whisper or like a kiss . . .

Lace rose and fell with the quickening of Katharine's breath.

"You're all right?"

"Of course. The doctor ran in again. He said I can get about tomorrow."

"Gosh," confessed Michael youthfully. "You don't know what a load that takes off my mind!"

Katharine allowed herself the ghost of a smile.

"She's sent the dog away," he ventured further.

"Mrs. Merser? Yes, I knew. The children were heart-broken about it."

MEXICANS TAKE MATCH, BUT U. S. NET TEAM WINS

Mexico, D. F., May 20.—(AP)—The United States Davis Cup tennis team has safely qualified for the interzone finals at Wimbledon, but only after losing a match to an American zone rival for the first time since 1931.

With the series clinched by virtue of two singles victories on Friday and a doubles triumph Saturday, America apparently was on its way to a clean sweep over Mexico in the zone final yesterday after Bryan Grant of Atlanta had defeated Daniel Hernandez, 6-1, 6-3, 6-0.

But Gene Mako of Los Angeles, subbing for his California doubles partner, Donald Budge, in the final singles match first was handicapped by a stomach attack and then by a leg cramp.

Finally he had to quit in the fifth set of his encounter with Esteban Reyes.

Budge had lost 16 pounds during his 16-day stay in the high altitude here, and Walter L. Paate, none-playing captain, sent Mako out for the last match. He won the first set easily, 6-1, but Reyes took the next two, 6-3 and 8-6. After the intermission Mako came back to win the fourth set, 6-4, and was leading 2-0 in the fifth when a leg cramp forced him to default.

Home runs—Johnson and Fox, Athletics, and Bonura, White Sox, 8.

Stolen bases—Hale, Indians, White, Tigers, and Almada, Red Sox, 6.

Pitching—Whitehead, White Sox, 6-0; Tamulis, and Allen, Yankees, and Wilshire, Athletics, 3-0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
 Batting—Vaughan, Pirates, 409; Martin, Cardinals, 367.

"I'll go down," Violet Merser said. "It's that young man—the riding club owner. I'm not sure of his name."

"He's Michael Heatheroe," said the girl faintly. She gave the syllables an upward flick, like a caress.

"Oh!" Violet Merser widened her eyes at the tone. "Do you want to see him?"

Color washed across Katharine's face like a tide, leaving her mute and helpless. "I—I don't know."

"Want anything before I march my two whirlwinds to bed?" Katharine shook her head. "Not a thing, thanks."

"Well then, I'll leave you for a bit. Ring the bell if you need anything. Lavinia will hear. The quiet way this house is arranged the kitchen juts out just under this bedroom," said Mrs. Merser, with her low-throated laugh.

"It's just darling," said Katharine swiftly.

"You should have seen it when we took it over," Mrs. Merser told her. "Sybil was a baby then. We camped in the barn that summer. My husband fell in love with the place because of the maple trees. It has heaps of drawbacks, but every time I complain about the plumbing and go to see some shining, stiff modern house I come back loving this the more."

She went off with a small grimy hand in each of her capable ones, and Katharine could hear delighted shouts from behind a closed bathroom door. Presently two small scrubbed faces, with shining locks brushed back, appeared in her doorway.

"Good night, Miss Katharine. Sybil says pleasant dreams."

Diana came to stand by her bedside, straight and tall in faded blue pajamas.

"Mummy says we may tell you good night. Will it bother you?"

The soft little voice, the lambent, eager eyes stirred Katharine.

"Of course not."

Diana perched, bird-like, on the dressing table stool.

"Do you care for children? Some people don't very much. I had a teacher who didn't but she was moved to another school. Don't you think that was a break?"

"Mummy says you're not to talk slang," said Sybil, coming gravely to stand at her elder's side. She was adorable in her thin one-piece pajama suit, printed all over with yellow and lavender Charlie Chaplins.

"You're darlings," Katharine said, in a rush. She didn't feel at all cool and stiff and diffident, as she usually did with new acquaintances. "I'm afraid I'm putting your mother to the most dreadful trouble, running her out of her room and all."

"Oh, that's perfectly all right," said Diana seriously. "You see, Daddy's away on his western trip right now so she often sleeps in the guest room to be near us. Lavinia's downstairs, and sometimes Sybil gets scared in the night."

"You're the one that gets scared," said Sybil scornfully.

"Children, children, come along! You'll wear Miss Katharine out."

Yes, this was the sort of room Katharine would have liked to fall asleep in when a child, with some wise, kind, soft-voiced person to tuck the covers straight and bring her a drink of water.

"Tell me good night, again, Mummy," Sybil's voice.

It made Katharine ache to think how much she'd missed. Bertine had meant well, but Bertine was a martinet. A girl of 13, who had been for four years under the care of servants, good and bad, had been the merest grist to Bertine's mill.

"Don't do that, Katharine."

"Stand up straight, Katharine."

"I declare, Victor, she's stubborn as a mule. And she never shows the slightest sign of caring . . ."

Those had been the complaints, down the years. No wonder Katharine had learned to keep her childish dreams, her adolescent hurts and imaginings to herself.

Violet Merser came in again, anxious for her guest's comfort.

"We can see all the hill lights from here," she said, going to the window beside Katharine's bed.

"See, those to the right are the windows of the old Rogers place . . ."

Katharine's eyes kindled.

"I was right," Violet thought. "She does care about him."

Downstairs Lavinia admitted a handsome, white-haired gentleman of 50-odd. Katharine's father.

POPPIES WIN RECOGNITION AS MEMORIAL

Natural Habitat Brought About Selection

The idea of the Poppy as a memorial flower for the World War dead sprang up naturally as the little wild flower itself grows in the fields of France and Flanders. The flower was the one touch of beauty which survived amid the hideous destruction of war. Along the edge of the trenches, beneath the tangled barbed wire, about ragged shell holes and over the fresh graves it raised its brave red blossom. It seemed to be the one immortal thing in that region where death reigned. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon it as the living symbol of the sacrifices of their dead comrades.

It was a poet who first gave expression to the idea. Soon himself to be beneath the poppies, he wrote:

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row."

Carried Pictures

Even before the men had returned from war the perfect little poem of Col. John McCrae had winged its way around the world, carrying the pictures of the poppies. Returning soldiers brought the vision of the poppy fields back with them, engrossed indelibly in their hearts with the memories of the comrades they had left on the battle front. Spontaneously the poppy took on a sacred significance. It became the flower of remembrance for the men who had poured out their life's blood around the roots of the plant.

Memories of the war dead always bring thoughts of those who did not die but returned doomed to years of hardship and suffering, sometimes worse than death. In the poppy was found a way to link the honoring of the dead with service for the living victims of the war. Patriotic organizations in different countries soon after the war began to conduct sales of poppies made by disabled veterans to raise funds for relief work among suffering ex-servicemen and their families. A double significance became attached to the poppy. Wearing the little flower came to mean honoring the dead and helping the living.

Born in America

The poppy was born in America in honor of the war dead before the close of the war. In 1919 scattered poppy sales were held by the American Legion and the following year, in the National convention at Cleveland, the Legion adopted the poppy as the memorial flower. When the Auxiliary was organized in Kansas City in 1921, one of the first acts was the adoption of the poppy as the memorial flower. To the American Legion Auxiliary goes the credit for the poppy sales, for they have labored and co-operated diligently in their efforts to increase the sale of veteran made poppies whereby the veteran in the hospital and the Veteran outside might be assisted to greater lengths.

The Flanders poppy was also made the memorial flower of the British, Canadian and French veterans. Millions of poppies made by disabled men in government hospitals of these countries are worn every year in honor of the war dead and to raise funds for the relief of the war's living victims, namely the veteran and his dependents.

We urge every citizen of this state to dedicate May 25th outside of Cook county and May 27th in Cook county as the day to recall the spirit of 1917 and 1918 and give in accordance with the spirit at that time. You will be honoring the boy who did not come back, who used to live next door to you, or the lad in the next block who did come back but physically or mentally disabled. One of these boys might have been your son or brother.

On the days set aside as Poppy Days this year the American Legion and its Auxiliary wish every one to wear the badge of honor, distinction and service whereby those boys who now rest under white crosses in the hallowed ground will not have died in vain.

METHODIST NOTES.

Lilac Sunday turned out to be more than could have been expected of it. That royal flower was at its best, and Mrs. Edward Dawson and large committee found the choice ones. From the altar to the back of the choir loft there was a glorious bank of lilac boughs. At the end of each pew were lilacs and elsewhere in the sanctuary. It was an inspiration, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stansell of Milwaukee surprised the pastor by driving in just before the hour of public worship. They had been spending two weeks visiting the Lincoln shrines in Kentucky. Doctor Stansell would not preach but did consent to speak briefly concerning some new angles in the study of the great Commoner and their meaning for our time.

The pastor spoke on "The Beauty of Christian Service," in reference to the years of service which some who are just now changing their places in the line have enjoyed. The processional and recessional, so well done by the large choir, added very much to the beauty of the service.

The church school added another fine attendance to its growing record. It is a joy to hear of

FRANCE BOOSTS FORCES NEARER GERMAN BORDER

While Hitler Seeks in Vain for Interview With M. Laval

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)

Paris, May 20—France was reliably reported today to be reinforcing her sea frontiers as well as her outposts on land, and to be quietly moving her naval strength toward the North Sea from the Mediterranean.

The move corresponds with France's action in transferring thousands of troops from the Italian frontier to her fortifications on the German border after the Reich announced her rearmament policy and Franco-Italian friendship was sealed in the Rome accord.

Within the last six months, the navy's second squadron, which is responsible for protection of the coast from the North Sea to the Gulf of Gascogne, has been more than doubled.

There are indications that the new members of classes in the school. What better thing can people do than attend a school of religion? It would seem that all would see this opportunity and grasp it.

Mrs. Robert Stansell spoke to the Epworth Leaguers, giving a remarkable talk on Palestine, as she saw it five years ago. Her graphic descriptions were very unusual in their clearness.

At the evening hour of worship the Men's Chorus, thirty-two strong, sang better than ever, and Doctor Robert Stansell preached on "The Dawn." It was a timely and highly interesting sermon.

Following the evening service a group of ladies with Mrs. A. N. Boyd as leader, served a beautiful lunch to the men of the chorus and their wives. Brief talks were made by C. C. Hintz, as Supt. of the church school, Mr. A. H. Ahrens and the Stansell brothers. It was a happy occasion.

This evening at 7:45 the Olmsted Players of Los Angeles, California, will present "St. Claudius." Marshal Gould's prize bible play. This professional cast have presented this dramatic play one thousand times, and will give an inspiration to everyone this evening who can attend. There will be no charge, but a silver offering will be taken. Everyone is invited.

The Dixon Philharmonic orchestra gave its third concert of the season in the church at 3:30. It was a very fine concert, both the work of the orchestra and soloists giving great pleasure to the large audience.

strength of the squadron will be still further augmented after the naval maneuvers off Morocco the first two weeks in June.

HITLER SEEKS EXIT

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
Berlin, May 20—Pinched by French encirclement, Reichsfuehrer Hitler again is seeking to ease the discomfort of Germany's position through a frank talk with Pierre Laval, France's foreign minister.

With all exits seemingly closed by France's diligent diplomatic maneuvering, it was disclosed today Der Fuehrer is hunting high and low for a way out of the dilemma with which his foreign policy is confronted. It is said he would like to point the way to that as yet unseen door in his Reichstag speech tomorrow.

With the assistance of Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, Hitler succeeded in getting Laval into a two-and-one-half hour conference at Krakow with his principal aide, General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of aviation.

Laval Slips Out

But the Frenchman later slipped out of Poland through Germany with rather emphatic indications that he has no intention of returning to this side of the Rhine.

"There is not much chance that Laval will give Hitler the satisfaction of an interview," quarters close the foreign minister said.

"The conversation with Goering was instructive, but that's about all."

Ever since Hitler came to power, he has tried to entice French statesmen to come to Berlin, but has met with the stock reply: "Come to Geneva and talk with all of us there."

ILLINI DEFEND LEAD FOR LAST TIME TOMORROW

Ohio State, Gophers Still Running Neck in Neck

Chicago, May 20—(AP)—Illinois plays its last game in defense of the Western Conference baseball title tomorrow, then starts hoping that a lot of bad luck will happen to Chicago, Minnesota and Ohio State.

The Illini meet Purdue at Lafayette tomorrow, and success would give them a final standing of eight victories and two defeats. A victory also would take care of Ohio State, which already has lost three games, and has four left to play. An Illinois defeat, however, would leave Ohio still in the running.

Chicago, with six victories in eight games, has three more Big Ten games left, while Minnesota, victorious in three of its five con-

"AIR HOODLUM" CAUSED CRASH OF GIANT PLANE

Soviet Government Placed Blame for Death of 49 People Saturday

Moscow, May 20—(AP)—A desperate battle in a motion picture plane accompanying the Maxim Gorky at the time of Saturday's disaster, was disclosed today as having almost caused a second accident.

The pilot of the smaller plane, V. Rybushkin, said that after a stunt aircraft had crashed into the Gorky world's largest land plane, a motion picture operator lost his head, leaped upon him and attempted to strangle him and pull him away from the controls.

"I lost command of my ship, it went into a spin, and there was nothing for me to do but to strike my companion in the face," the pilot said. "This treatment finally calmed him and he slumped into his seat, remaining still until I managed to get out of the spin and land."

No Pictures Published

It was not disclosed whether the reference contests, has six games remaining. Should Illinois win tomorrow, the Maroons and Gophers would have to take their remaining games in order to pass the league leaders.

Maroons vs Wildcats

Chicago plays two games during the week, both with Northwestern, entertaining the Wildcats tomorrow, and going to Evanston Saturday, Ohio State and Purdue play Friday and Saturday games at Iowa and Minnesota, respectively, while Michigan meets Northwestern at Evanston Friday, and tackles Wisconsin at Madison Saturday.

Illinois climbed back into first place Saturday by defeating Michigan 8 to 4. Chicago walloped Purdue, 13 to 3, last Tuesday, but slipped Friday, losing to Indiana 10 to 6. Iowa defeated Minnesota Friday, 6 to 5, but the Gophers remained in the running by winning Saturday's game by the same score. Michigan whipped Purdue, 6 to 1, Friday, and Wisconsin trounced Northwestern Saturday, 10 to 1, in the week's other games.

operator filmed the crash in which 49 persons lost their lives before he became panic-stricken, but no pictures of the disaster have been published. The official motion picture agency declined to say whether it had obtained any pictures.

Despite the calamitous crash of the Maxim Gorky, the Soviet is determined to build three more air-planes of the same type.

It was announced today that the new aircraft would be named Vladimir Lenin, Joseph Stalin, Maxim Gorky after three of the Soviet Union's foremost heroes.

The newspaper Pravda, organ of the Communist party, asserted the government is in a position to construct additional plane of the Maxim Gorky type in large numbers whenever it should so desire.

Blame "Air Hoodlum"

The Soviet press blamed the disaster, which occurred Saturday when a small plane collided with the Maxim Gorky in mid-air while stunting, on the action of an "air hoodlum."

Pravda said the behavior of Pilot Blagin, the stunt pilot, who perished in the crash, was an example of "criminal lack of discipline" which the government and the Communist party "are removing from the air fleet with hot irons."

Blagin was officially reported to have been warned not to stunt in the vicinity of the mammoth ship, which he was accompanying to enable spectators to observe the contrast in the size.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

The first ripples of the send-a-dime chain letter, which swamped the Denver postoffice and out of which some Denver people are actually supposed to have made a little money, are now lapping into New York. There is no visible reason why it should not swamp the New York postoffice as well. It has everything. Its first resource is out of the really successful fad—like marathon dancing, pole sitting or pee-wee golf—is always constructed. But that is only the foundation of its greatness. It appeals to the divine gullibility of human nature. All you have to do is drop money into the mails, as millions have dropped it into "con" games, perpetual-motion machines, magical $10 bill makers or countless other devices, and then sit back and be made rich. Who can resist the temptation to hand money to an absolute stranger? Finally it appeals to the invincible popular confidence in the magical power of mathematics. It has a mathematical base. That makes it perfect.

There is something very sweet and touching in this respect for the demonic power of numbers. You send back your dime and send on your letter to five new prospects; they repeat the process, and after six more steps the letter must be in the hands of 15,625 persons. All of them will send dimes to you and you will therefore get $1,562.50. The multiplication table cannot be wrong. The only little difficulty about this is never noticed. All of the 15,625 are supposed to send their dimes because they expect to profit similarly; but in order to do so they would have to get their letters into the hands of no fewer than 224,000,000 individuals, each of whom would be gullible enough to send the dime.

WHEAT GROWERS WILL DETERMINE YEAR'S PROGRAM

Complete Vote During Week on Continuation of AAA Rule

Kansas City, May 20—(AP)—The nation's bread basket decides this week whether it will continue to be regulated by the federal government or go back to the old era of uncontrolled wheat production.

Thousands of farmers, representing millions of acres of wheat land will mark their little crosses in the "yes" and "no" columns of government ballots in a referendum on continuation of the wheat control program for another four years. The referendum, both the administration and its opponents admit, is a test of the entire AAA program.

Heated by rain which last week "saved" much wheat in central Kansas which had been believed dead, AAA county groups today put finishing touches on the elaborate election set-up which will determine the question for the next quinquennium.

The proposition to be voted on is the simple question "do you favor continuation of the present wheat control program for another four years?"

Voting must be completed by 8 P. M., May 25, and the result tabulated at once by extension officers in the various wheat states.

HOME TIES STRONG

According to F. C. Lincoln, naturalist of the United States biological survey, years of banding of wild ducks shows that while they will spend their summers and breeding season together, they will separate on their flights southward, each mother duck taking her brood to her chosen winter quarters. California ducks, for example, may nest with Mississippi ducks during the summer in the same Canadian marsh. Naturalist Lincoln says, but on migrating southward for the winter, the California birds return to California and the Mississippians to the Mississippi swamps.

NITROGEN CARRIES SOUND WAVES

Nitrogen, the element in which, if present alone, would cause people to die of suffocation, is the medium that carries on the major job of transmitting sound waves, and oxygen, the element in the air which supports life, is the chief bearer of sound waves.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND"

ATHLETES SAY

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness. Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'"

George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for golf, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!...It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

GOOD NEWS!

Most of the pleasant things in life are doubly pleasant when you're "in condition." That's why it's such good news to hear that Camel's costlier tobaccos are so mild you can smoke all you please. Athletes say Camels never get your "wind."

SO MILD YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

Camels

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.
